Message

Millennia ago, Socrates claimed that, "To say 'I know' is to close one's mind to knowledge". Challenging that spirit at City Public School, our motto is 'we want To Learn', because we too believe that learning is limitless. We aim to develop each one of our students into true learners, individuals who always seek to broaden their perspective and to face life's challenges with courage and conviction. While we aim to help our students excel in the course they are studying, we also hope to instil in them a thirst for learning throughout their lives. At City Public School our teachers, students, and parents work together to realise this goal.
